HOUSTON HOUSING AUTHORITY PROVIDING FREE MEALS FOR CHILDREN AS SCHOOL SUMMER MEALS PROGRAMS END

HOUSTON—Summer school may be out, but the Houston Housing Authority isn't letting healthy meals take a vacation.

After school summer meals programs ended last week, the Houston Housing Authority began providing free nutritious meals and snacks for thousands of children at its communities across Houston.

Free lunch will be offered for children ages 1 through 18 at various Houston Housing Authority communities every weekday at 11 a.m. with a snack provided at 3 p.m. (A full list of locations where meals will be provided is provided below.)

“We serve thousands of working families on a tight budget, and a nutritious meal for children will go a long way in helping make sure children stay healthy over the summer,” said Timothy Seckinger, Interim President and CEO of the Houston Housing Authority.

The free summer meals program is administered by the City of Houston Parks and Recreation Department and will run until August 13.

The Houston Housing Authority provides affordable homes and services to more than 55,000 people throughout Houston. The agency and its affiliates own and operate 25 housing communities with more than 6,500 units for families, elderly and other residents.
